

Paula Faustino Bauer has provided crucial assistance in the management of Fortis Imaginatio, since the moment of its establishment. As a qualified translator, she possesses the linguistic competencies, organisational qualities, and the ease necessary in cross-cultural interactions to call upon the required skills at the right time.

Since 1996, Paula Faustino Bauer has managed her own translation agency. She also works as an interpreter, and regularly sits on committees overseeing the state examination of translators.

Between 2004 and 2008, she was shareholding managing director of a medium-sized computer trading company, responsible for the day-to-day management of business and employees.
